BOTTOM LINE:	Best overall value. Coverage optional for legal issues as well. Very comprehensive product for the price and scope of coverage.		Decent monitoring and related services. Restoration help is limited for victims.	Useful combination of credit & IDT protection, but a bit pricey.	Good value for product range.	Good value for product range.	Does NOT include credit monitoring. Even though IDT can be perpetrated through methods that do not impact a credit report, the service is weakened due to this feature not being part of it.		Good value for product range.	Good value, but does NOT include credit monitoring.

Why you might need an attorney for an ID THEFT problem:

1. Debt collection companies start harassing you by phone at home and work
2. You are being sued for a debt you didn't create.
3. Credit bureaus won't remove negative items the thieves created from your credit report.
4. IRS is suing you for not paying taxes on income a thief made at multiple 1099 jobs.
5. Law enforcement is arresting you for a missed DUI court date, or unpaid speeding tickets, in another state where you've not been.
6. You receive a foreclosure notice for a property you don't own.
7. You lose your job when a background check wrongly shows you were arrested for prostitution, pornography, or that you're a sex offender.
9. You are accused of writing bad checks all over town.
10. A bank refuses to replace money in your account, claiming that you were responsible for not safeguarding your checking information well enough.
11. You find out someone filed a bogus tax return before you got yours filed electronically, and the IRS isn't responding to your inquiries.
12. Someone has used your health insurance, tested positive for HIV, now it's on your health records, no one will talk with you about changing your medical info, and your life and health insurance are cancelled over it.
13. Someone using a fake ID with your info committed a felony crime and you are being arrested during a routine traffic stop.
